Murder Charge Lodged Against B.C. Boys 11, 13

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Two boys, aged 11 and 13, will be charged with murder in the bizarre shooting last week of district farmer James Mear Watson, police reported today.

The youngsters are reported by police to have fired a stolen rifle at a passing car on the Alaska Highway, fatally injuring Watson, who was riding in the rear seat.

Watson was riding home from a theatre with friends when a bullet pierced the back of the car and passed through his body. He died last Tuesday, four days after the shooting.

The arrest of the juveniles followed discovery by police that a store window here had been smashed by a bullet the same night.

An inquest was scheduled to be opened here later today.

Paratroops Aboard As 16 Planes Seek Missing U.S. Bomber

Paratroops were carried today as 16 aircraft took advantage of sunny skies to renew the search for a U.S. Neptune bomber, missing on the west coast of Vancouver Island with nine men aboard.

R.C.A.F. officials at Western Air Command, Vancouver, said 11 heavy aircraft, carrying paratroops for jumping if the plane is sighted, are carrying out today's search in company with five reconnaissance planes.

Winds and rain hampered operations Sunday for the bomber, missing since Nov. 4 when it was on a training flight from the U.S. naval station at Whidby Island.

The R.C.A.F. said a week-end clue, a signal on a 500-kilocycle emergency band, was traced to a commercial transmitter and was not a distress call from the lost plane.

The signal was heard Saturday at Port Alberni.

C.I.O. Official Beaten

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Washington State regional director of the C.I.O. was seriously beaten by two robbers today.

Roy Atkinson of Seattle, here for the national C.I.O. convention, suffered a jaw fracture, possible skull fracture and facial cuts. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Atkinson said two men forced him into a car, beat him, took his watch, ring and $120 in cash, and dumped him from the car in an apartment house district.

Condition Improves

Mrs. Mary A. Attwood, 73-year-old victim of a brutal attack by an unknown female last Wednesday morning in the comfort station back of the Hall, continues to make progress on the recovery trail, according to St. Joseph Hospital attendants today.

U.N. Council Chief States Soviet Reply Satisfactory

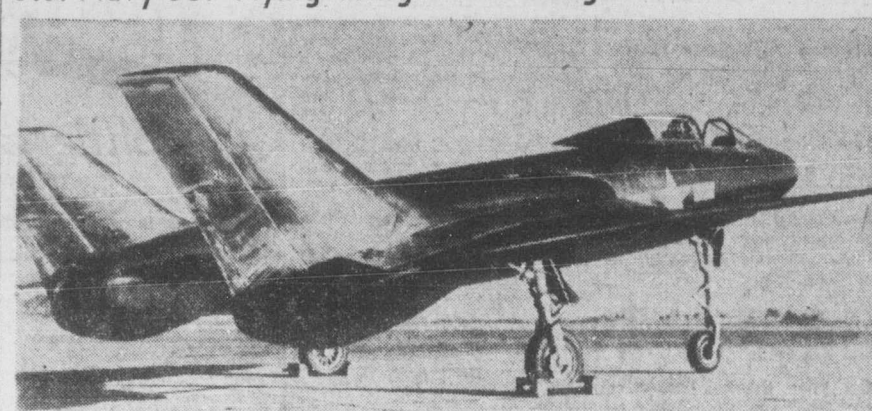

PARIS (CP)—Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina said today the Russian answer to his Berlin currency questionnaire "appears to be satisfactory."

The November President of the United Nations Security Council said, however, a comparison of the Russian reply with the answers from Britain, the United States and France, expected to be delivered to him today, is necessary to decide if a basis of agreement on the Berlin crisis can be reached.

'NEUTRALS' MEET

Bramuglia said he had scheduled a meeting of the six "neutral" members of the Security Council to begin as soon as the western replies are received. If

U.S. Navy Jet 'Flying Wing' Put Through Tests

NANKING (AP)—Independent military dispatches today indicated Communists are threatening the east flank of Suchow.

Pro-government reports, however, insisted National troops still held the initiative in the resurgence of fighting mostly centered around Nienchuan, 30 miles east of Suchow.

Government armored cars, sepoys said, spearheaded National forces in a battle in the outskirts of Nienchuan. Many Reds were reported killed.

Chinese military observers said today that apparently government forces had not followed up an advantage gained last week when air raids compelled the main Red forces to hunt cover.

South of Suchow fighting was reported centered around Suhsin, midway between Pengpu and Suchow. Government troops reportedly had cleared the area.

Suchow, 180 miles northwest of Nanking, guards the approach to the national capital.

Northward in Peiping, Gen. Fu Tso-yi, Nationalist commander, declared martial law in the five provinces he commands. Parades and other demonstrations were banned. Light fighting between Red and government troops took place outside of Peiping.

Concern in the highest circles over the military situation showed itself in a broadcast speech by Madame Chiang Kai-shek from Nanking. Calling for "immediate and definite" United States aid, the generalissimo's wife declared "If China falls, all of Asia goes."

Canadian Urges U.N. Admit Jewish State; Limit Claims

PARIS (CP)—L. B. Pearson of Canada said today the United Nations should recognize that a Jewish state exists. But he added that Israel cannot have both the area in Palestine given to her by partition and that gained by force of arms.

The Dominion's External Affairs Minister spoke before the United Nations' General Assembly's No. 1 Political Committee in his first major speech of the current Assembly.

Pearson outlined three broad principles which he said should guide the Assembly:

1. Recognition that a Jewish state exists.

2. Establishment by the United Nations of an official body—perhaps a small commission as suggested by the United Kingdom—which would make available its good offices to the Jewish state and its neighbors in arrangements for defining geographical and political relations.

3. The Assembly should reaffirm its recommendation for international control of Jerusalem and should call on both parties to co-operate in implementing the recommendation.

The Canadian delegation head said Israel's "armies seem to be in a position where they could, if they chose, establish themselves in most of Palestine."

"If they did so, they would be openly defying the wishes of the international community," he referred to Jewish claims to the Negev Desert in southern Palestine and to Western Galilee, which the Jews took from the Arabs by force.

The six neutrals decide they can work out a new plan to end the Berlin dispute, it is likely the full council will be convened by the end of this month to consider their plan formally.

The six-country meeting probably will be held tonight, Bramuglia said, "because time is pressing and the search for a solution now has been delayed for over a week."

The six countries who will meet are Canada, Argentina, Belgium, China, Colombia and Syria.

Russia's 10-page reply to the currency questionnaire was delivered Saturday to Bramuglia. The Argentine said he believes there are "good chances" of agreement on Berlin's currency snarl.

A.F.L. Approval Of Anti-Soviet Defence Alliance Requested

CINCINNATI (AP)—American Federation of Labor delegates today drove toward final adjournment of their 67th annual convention with a report by the committee on international labor relations, one of the last major items on the program. Delegates planned to finish their work by tonight.

The strongly worded 10-page report of the international labor relations committee asked the A.F.L. to go on record as favoring a defensive military alliance against Russia and a severance of trade relations with the Soviet.

It also urged that United States defences be placed "in complete readiness and invincibility."

First steps toward the formation of a world-wide federation of labor came in a suggestion that the A.F.L. executive council invite leaders of the British Trade Union Congress to confer with it when it meets in Miami next February.

Mennonite Church Disowns Emigrants

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Manitoba Mennonites who recently emigrated to Paraguay because they were dissatisfied with living conditions in Canada have "no connection with the general Mennonite Church," Bishop C. F. Dersine of the Mennonite Central Committee said today.

"The whole Mennonite church is blamed for this unhappy situation in Paraguay," he said. "Most of all we do not appreciate the idea that Canadian Mennonites are dissatisfied with Canada. Mennonites do appreciate Canada and have no intention of leaving here. Nor do they criticize the living standards of the people or find fault with the government."

Giant British Liners Idle, Await End Of U.S. Strike

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—Striking crew members of the Queen Elizabeth today agreed to go back to work after the Cunard White Star Line had promised not to sail the liner to the United States until the longshoremen's strike there is settled.

The men promised to return to work at noon. The line promised also not to sail to Halifax, the port to which some British ships were diverted last week.

Truman, Marshall Talk May Decide Future of China

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman and State Secretary Marshall are conferring today in the first of a series of post-election foreign policy developments which may largely decide the fate of China and the future course of United States strategy against international Communism.

Diplomatic authorities agreed that China presents Truman and Marshall with their most urgent—and in some ways most difficult—problem.

Before Truman is a request from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for the United States, in effect, to take over the running of Chiang's war against the Communists.

BROUGHT REPORT

A proposal that the United States either give China "all out" aid or none was made Saturday night by special Senate consultant D. Worth, who had just returned from China.

Aside from the China question, subjects which seemed likely to come up for discussion in the course of Marshall's foreign policy report to the President included:

Berlin — The hottest point in the cold war in Europe appears certain to remain that way for a long time, since Marshall must report, all efforts at mediation of the crisis to get the Russian blockade of Berlin lifted now have failed.

Military Alliance — Marshall brings to Washington the latest information on exactly what the western Europeans want in the way of a military alliance with the United States.

Washington Hopes Longshore Strike Over In Few Days

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations were resumed today in the United States coast longshoremen's strike, now in its 13th day, and informed government officials in Washington expressed hope for settlement within the next few days.

William N. Margolis, assistant director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, made the statement in Washington Sunday night as he prepared to fly back to New York for more conferences today.

It was reported reliably in Washington that a welfare plan offered by the stevedore employers is the basis for optimism about early settlement of the pay dispute which has paralyzed ports from Maine to Virginia.

The welfare plan would be in addition to an offer of an increase of 10 cents an hour in the basic pay rate of $1.75, which 65,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.), rejected before the strike.

C.P.A.L. Flights Over Pacific May Start In Summer

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Canadian Pacific Air Lines may be able to start regular flights to New Zealand and Australia by the middle of 1949, G. W. G. McConachie, president of the air lines company, said today.

McConachie said it depended on whether an agreement was reached between the New Zealand and Canadian governments.

In that event, it should be possible for survey flights to start about next May, followed later by regular operations.

McConachie arrived in New Zealand today to attend a meeting of the South Pacific Air Council.

He said plans already are well advanced for service to Shanghai and Hongkong from Vancouver as soon as air liners on order are delivered about May.

Five Planes Search For Toronto-Born Singer And Pilot

HAYWARD, Wis. (AP)—Five aircraft flying amid snowflurries in the Waukesha region, were searching today for the plane which disappeared Sunday while carrying Toronto-born singer Bobby Breen to a remote hunting area.

The searching mission was manned by volunteer pilots. Buck Webster, leading the searchers, said he believed the plane must have landed in Sunday afternoon's early darkness and that the two occupants remained with the ship.

Ernie Roth, advance agent for the former child motion picture star, said Breen and his pilot, Kenneth Thompson, were long overdue on a flight from Waukesha, Wis., to Hayward.

Breen began his professional career in Toronto at the age of four when he appeared at a theatre and night clubs. When he lived in Toronto he was known as Isadore Borsyk. His name later was changed to Jackie Borene and then to Bobby Breen.

After Breen had become a screen actor in Hollywood the family moved there.

Never German Again

METZ, France (AP)—Foreign Minister Robert Schuman said Sunday France can never permit a centralized German government to own the Ruhr.

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

OTTAWA — Defence Minister Brooke Claxton today revealed the government has awarded a contract for the modernization of 209 service planes at an estimated cost of $10,377,000.

He made the disclosure in the course of a brief but impressive survey to the Victoria Times correspondent of the momentum the Canadian rearmament program is swiftly gaining.

The minister revealed that precedents of parliamentary practice and past military policy alike are being disregarded in order to make speed and effectiveness the twin criteria of present action.

For example: He disclosed that an "entirely new body quite different from anything that has ever existed in the past" has been created in the defence ministry. It is known as the "Defence Commitment Authority," and its purpose is to enable the military authorities to contract in advance, expenditures which Parliament subsequently will be called upon to approve.

The revolutionary nature of this agency can only be appreciated by understanding the importance which tradition and parliamentary practice attach to the principle that all public expenditures must be approved by Parliament before they are made.

At the last session of the House of Commons defence department estimates totalling $250,000,000—

'Shadow Orders' Drawn Up

"The army has taken a complete inventory," he said, "of the things we would need to carry through the first year of any war emergency. We have large quantities of stores on hand, and some of the new would be met from them. But we have made a detailed list of the deficiency items and this list has been transmitted to the Canadian Commercial Corporation (the army procurement agency in which private industrial concerns co-operate). It has been transmitted in the form of 'shadow orders'."

As a sidelight on its extensive and complexity he mentioned that "the individual items of equipment required for one year's operations of the army total 171,881,961, not including spare parts."

Of this multitudinous list of companies, he said, the Canadian army had on hand at the present time approximately two-thirds.

A similar survey in the field of manpower required for the three fighting services would be undertaken, the minister stated.

In respect to preparedness steps which the defence department actually has finalized in recent months, Mr. Claxton gave the following partial catalogue:

Military vehicles have been ordered and modernization of existing mobile equipment has been carried out on an over-all scale.

Upwards of $18,000,000 has been spent in the acquisition of new North Star planes, still aviation's last word in long-range, heavy duty aircraft.

A total of $6,160,000 has been spent in the development of jet engine aircraft.

A total of $7,300,000 has been spent on the acquisition of planes from the United Kingdom and the United States.

All this, the defence minister intimated, is only a start along the road that Canada's preparedness policy will chart in the months ahead.

Bombay District Cut Off By Gales

BOMBAY (CP)—Bombay and an area of about 70 miles around the city were virtually cut off today from the rest of India as gales accompanied by heavy rain swept India's west coast.

City transport services were paralyzed as the cyclonic storm, with wind at times reaching more than 100 miles an hour, swept the city.

Electricity supplies from the Tata power station, main source in Bombay province, failed and all trains and trams stopped early in the morning.

Thousands of huts were blown away. Police estimated 25,000 persons were homeless. Troops were called in to clear the streets of debris.

18-Month-Old Baby Shoots Youth, 19

JOHANNESBURG (Reuter) —An 18-month-old baby shot a 19-year-old youth here today. Jack William Berry was driving a two-seater car while the baby played behind the driver's seat. The infant found a revolver, with which it played unobserved. The gun went off and Berry was shot in the side. He is recuperating in a hospital.

France Challenges Allied Decision On Ruhr Plants

PARIS (AP)—Agence France-Presse said today France has formally challenged the British-U.S. decision to turn key industries of the Ruhr back to German ownership.

The news agency often is given first official news from the foreign office. It said Foreign Minister Robert Schuman had made the challenge in a memorandum Saturday night to State Secretary Marshall and Hector McNeill, British Minister of State.

The French protest asserted the U.S. and British governments are not "competent to take a decision of that kind." The Ruhr is in the British occupation zone, which is merged economically with the U.S. zone.

The steel and coal industries mainly are affected. French fears are that all such enterprises are war potentials in the hands of Germans. The French have insisted right along on international control of the Ruhr—greatest industrial basin in Europe.

Believe Fire Bug Active Again At Willows Grounds

The fire bug suspected of having set other buildings on fire in the Willows fairgrounds this year and last, is believed to have been at work again Saturday night, but the new outbreak was discovered in its beginning stages and was quickly put out by Oak Bay fire department.

Fire started in the stable row back of the grandstand, and was seen by A. B. Campbell, 1467 Ryan Street, at 8.53. He immediately turned in the alarm to the fire department.

Damage was figured at only $25, but fire officials of the municipality believe that if the flames had been allowed to get a stronger hold on the bone-dry stables, another major fire would have resulted.

Bearded Pioneer Miners' Era Revived At Alberni's Gala Klondike Night

PORT ALBERNI — Gayest night ever held in the Alberni took place Saturday when a beard growing contest which has been under way since Sept. 24 was climaxed with a gala Klondike Night.

More than 3,500 people, many garbed in the dress of the nineties attended the affair which raised $4,900 in the one evening for the West Coast Hospital.

Grand winner of the beard-growing contest was Paul Sweek of Great Central Lake. Winner in the class for red beards was Vic Cameron.

Norman King was master of ceremonies. Judges of the beards were James A. Green of Victoria, chairman of the Board of Examiners of Barbers in British Columbia, and Ben Franklin, secretary of the Barbers' Union in Victoria.

Island mayors and reeves were among those invited to attend the celebrations, which had been preceded by sales of gold bricks, Kankaroo courts in the streets of Port Alberni, to say nothing of the beards, all in aid of the West Coast Hospital.

Vic Cameron's beard won first place for him in the class for red beards. With him in the picture is Mrs. Bobbie Rutherford, a visitor from Plenty, Sask.

Kept Liquor For Sale; Gets 6 Months

A six-month jail sentence with no option of a fine, was imposed against Hubert James Burt, Empress Avenue, a taxi driver, this morning by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court when he was convicted on a charge of unlawfully keeping liquor for sale. Accused had a previous conviction of the same nature.

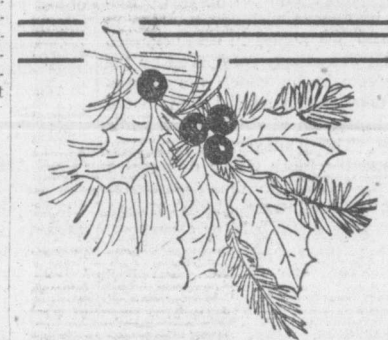

Constables T. Smith told the court that through taxi driver William Freeze he obtained a 26-ounce bottle of rye whisky on Nov. 3 for $5. He said he saw Freeze get it from accused.

Freeze, in the witness box admitted he got it from accused. Sgt. T. Banister told of searching the rear compartment of a vehicle in which three and one-half dozen bottles of beer and 30 bottles of hard liquor, in pints and quarts, were found. The sergeant said accused used a key on the compartment after he demanded it be opened.

FOR BRIGHTER STUDENTS

THOSE CRITICS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA'S educational system who believe that existing practice has been inclined to place too much emphasis on the average, or mediocre pupil, to the detriment of the brighter one will have welcomed the announcement by Mr. Harold L. Campbell, Chief Inspector of Schools, in Vancouver last week. This important leader of the department's activities has indicated that sweeping changes may be expected in high school curricula within the next few years. They will, according to the report, be designed to challenge brighter students and enable them to push ahead more quickly. One of the possibilities which unfolds is that high school training for university entrance may be completed in three years.

Details of the plan are yet to be made public, but in principle it furnishes the hope of eliminating some of the deficiencies in the present method. In a large classroom it is next to impossible to provide individual attention to all students. Under circumstances as they exist a teacher, if he or she wishes to achieve anything like a reputable record for instruction, must see that those who have greater difficulty in learning are given the assistance they need to overcome hurdles. The bright boys and girls, in consequence, find prescribed work below their capacities. Too frequently the ease with which they absorb subjects inclines them to habits of laziness. They know they can catch up on the slower ones. Unless some substantial stimulant is applied they often coast through the stretch and sprint at the finish. That is sufficient to give them a pass mark and, in many cases, a high grade.

It does not, however, provide the steady challenge which should keep them advancing throughout the year at anything like the pace they might maintain. The disadvantage is twofold. In the first instance the practice does not hold their minds tuned to a high pitch. In the second it creates a habit of inertia from which it is not always easy to emerge. Good young brains can deteriorate if they are left fallow too long.

From a more practical point of view the proposed changes suggest a very definite advantage. Parents who keep their children at school know the financial burden which is imposed upon them for each year that intervenes between their offspring's academic pursuits and translation to the materially productive field. A child with the ability to finish high school in three years should receive every encouragement to do so. In that way the rewards for excellent excellence would be defined as clearly as those for physical prowess, which commands its respect on the sports field. The idea is entirely desirable.

IT WILL COST MORE

IN TIMES OF INTERNATIONAL disturbance such as those in which we now live, maintenance of security is no light matter. A country the size of this Dominion, particularly when it has achieved a prominent position among the so-called "middle powers" as a result of its accomplishments in war and peace, must call for large expenditures on defence if it is to retain an authoritative voice in the councils of nations. Consequently, as was suggested in a special Ottawa despatch to this paper on Saturday, Canada is now "headed toward a peacetime armament expenditure of $100,000,000 annually." Such a sum represents a vast increase over the approximate $13,000,000 spent on the armed services in 1934, or even the $33,000,000 expended in 1938.

The Dominion shortly will take part in conferences designed to set up an Atlantic pact for the mutual defence of participating countries. Commitments such as will be involved necessitate a strong defensive force. Promises to stand together against outside aggression would mean little if the signatory nations were not in a position to back up their words with deeds. Thus we must plan on greater expenditures and greater risks. We must pay the price of full and independent nationhood.

IT MUST BE PAID

NO DOUBT THE ANNOUNCEMENT BY Finance Minister Douglas Abbott that for the first seven months of the current fiscal year the surplus in federal accounts amounts to $533,600,000 will bring forth from Progressive Conservative quarters the usual demand for a lowering of income tax levies. Normally, a country that received revenues half a billion dollars in excess of listed requirements for expenditure might be justified in cutting its income to a sum nearer that needed for current disbursements. Every Canadian, including Mr. Abbott himself, would no doubt be happy to see such a reduction effected in this country. But there is one factor in the Canadian financial situation that makes this almost impossible. We, as a nation, owe $17,000,000,000.

Seventeen billion dollars is a large debt to be carried by a country of 13,000,000 population. The annual interest charges alone are a heavy burden, to say nothing of repayment of the principal sum. To talk of substantially reducing taxes in the face of such a situation is nothing less than economic irresponsibility. We do not wish to earn a reputation for turning our backs on financial obligations. We must do everything we can to pay off the money that was borrowed mainly to pay for our war effort.

In 1914 the national debt was slightly more than $540,000,000—approximately the amount of this year's surplus and considerably less than last year's. By 1938, as we went into a second war, the Dominion's debt stood at $3,000,000,000. Today it is nearly six times as large. Current surpluses in the neighborhood of half a billion dollars are being applied to this debt, and even at this rate it will take a long time to clear the books. The question arises, then, how would those who demand income tax cuts arrange to pay off the debt? An individual faced with a large debt does not seek ways to reduce his income. A nation's budget operates in the same way.

FIRE PROTECTION NEEDS

AS CITIZENS OF THIS COMMUNITY study proposals laid before the Victoria Town Planning Commission by Chief Robert Brindle for more adequate fire protection services to meet current and future needs, they will recall the days in which the city service extended over much wider municipal territory. Several years ago, for instance, Oak Bay paid a fixed sum for coverage by the city. Dispute over the amount that should be paid led to the termination of the agreement and the establishment by the municipality of its own department. Several factors have since developed which make questionable the economy of that move. And it should be apparent that a more embracing service could be furnished for the benefit of the entire region if a unified system were introduced for all residential, industrial and commercial sections.

The specific suggestions advanced by Chief Brindle had that point in mind. The location of new halls would be such that they would provide more direct runs to all districts that could legitimately be covered by a metropolitan scheme. That they would replace some of the existing, though unused, stations requires little explanation. Shifting developments, the relocation of industrial plants, erection of new ones and the greater density of residential building in what, a few years ago, were relatively unimproved areas, make such changes necessary from time to time. Furthermore, present day traffic is an element with which any clear-thinking fire department must concern itself. Its chances of speedy attack on a fire which blazes in a section of the community accessible only along busy streets are less than would be the case if roads were relatively bare of other vehicles.

These are elements which, important as they are, should not take precedence over the underlying consideration of an amalgamated service. The issue is one of direct self-interest to residents of the entire community. A big fire at an industrial plant or other large establishment would cause loss of employment not only to workers who lived in its immediate vicinity, but also to employees who had homes in other municipalities. This was clearly recognized by the wartime agreement by which the Dominion Government paid a special sum to the city for the protection of shipbuilding yards in Esquimalt. The taxpayers of Oak Bay, Esquimalt and the inner wards of Saanich have a direct interest in the department which takes care of their places of employment, be they in the city or elsewhere. They have a primary right to expect adequate service for their homes. But pay cheque insurance more often than not depends upon the safeguards on buildings that lie in another area. Apart from the increased efficiency which should result from unified service, this is a compelling consideration for them when they weigh the advantages of a metropolitan department.

IN A POSITION TO HELP

APART FROM EMPHASIZING THE interdependence of the economies of Canada and the United States, the announcement by the Bonneville Power Administration that British Columbia energy makes it possible for Washington aluminum plants to continue operation will arouse genuine interest among our people. It so happens that the outflow of "juice" from this province is reciprocating an intake of a year or two ago. The equation is being balanced.

It is significant, nevertheless, that British Columbia, usually considered as a major source of raw material for exploitation by American and other alien interests, has, in this case, harnessed and is releasing under control the product of this natural asset to assist communities which are considered in the forefront of the electrical power field. This section of Canada is not lagging in the important development thus disclosed.

Approximately a month ago business and other leaders of western Canada journeyed to Bridge River to participate in the inaugural ceremonies which sent a new load of power coursing over the high tension lines into Vancouver. Whether or not that source of supply is making available the energy being imported by Washington, the fact remains that an ambitious and well-considered enterprise has put this part of the Dominion in a favorable position to help a generous neighbor. Material rewards, of course, are being reaped for the accommodation transmitted across the line. But, in addition to cash returns, the publicity value of the undertaking assumes major proportions. It should further advance the development so effectively conducted by the British Columbia Electric Company to justify the slogan, "Business is moving to B.C."

There is always something. After overcoming the smoking habit, you must overcome the habit of bragging about it.

The Grand Alliance

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
From Washington

SOMETHING of great importance is about to take place. Despite previous denials, negotiations between United States Under-Secretary of State Robert Lovett and European ambassadors on a North Atlantic pact are to be resumed almost immediately.

These negotiations are virtually certain to lead to an event of the first magnitude—a treaty which will be in effect a military alliance between the United States, Canada and a number of European countries. Although the whole matter has heretofore been wrapped in considerable mystery, it is thus worth examining just where the negotiations now stand, and what they are all about.

THE IMMEDIATE task of Lovett and the representatives of Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg is simply to write the treaty. It should be ready some time in January, and will then be submitted for approval to the President, the Congress and the Canadian and European governments.

There will no doubt be disagreements on wording, but agreement on the broad outlines of the treaty has already in fact been reached. It will be modeled on the existing Rio pact. The heart of it will be that each member nation is committed to go to war against an aggressor if another member nation is attacked. To this basic commitment provisions for pooling of resources and mutual consultation will be added. And there will be two small loopholes.

ONE LOOPHOLE, necessitated by the American constitutional system, will provide that the commitment is limited by the constitutional processes of the governments concerned. The other loophole will reserve to each government the right to determine for itself whether or not aggression has taken place.

All this is pretty well agreed. Yet a number of vital issues remain to be settled. The first of these is simply the question: Who is to be invited to join the pact? There are now seven prospective members. But there are six other nations to which invitations may be extended.

THESE ARE Norway, Denmark, Elre, Portugal, Iceland and, last but not least, Italy. There is little doubt that Italy and Portugal would quickly accept an invitation to join. Elre and Iceland are more doubtful. Norway and Denmark hope to avoid any break with their neighbor Sweden, which is at the moment dead set against coming in. They are now trying to make some special regional arrangement with Sweden, but under any circumstances it is now probable that Norway and Denmark will accept if they are asked to subscribe to the pact.

But are these six countries to be asked to join? The French are more than doubtful, especially as regards Italy. They point to their own pre-war experience as a tragic object lesson in the danger of making commitments which cannot be fulfilled. More practically, they fear that as a consequence of bringing in other countries, American aid in rearming Europe will be spread too thin, and the French share will thus be inadequate.

THE AMERICAN POLICY makers, on the other hand, are more and more convinced that Italy and the rest must be invited to join. They agree that under the peace treaty, any revision of which could be vetoed by the Soviets, Italy will remain a military liability. But the political effects of excluding Italy might be disastrous; to the Italians, and indeed to the Kremlin, it might seem an open declaration that Italy was to be thrown to the wolves. As for Norway, Denmark, Elre, Iceland and Portugal, a glance at the map is sufficient to suggest the strategic meaning of these countries.

THE FRENCH HAVE other worries. Before signing the pact, they would certainly like a commitment from the United States on the specific amount of aid to be extended toward the rearmament of France. And they would also certainly welcome assurances that in the event of war the United States would base its strategy on holding Western Europe, rather than Spain or some other outpost.

No flat commitments on either point can be, or will be, made. Yet the American makers of policy are unanimously persuaded that the rearmament of Western Europe and the North Atlantic pact are inseparable, and the policy of arming Western Europe obviously implies the intention of holding Western Europe in case of war.

THUS FRENCH DOUBTS on this score will no doubt be stilled. The strong probability is, moreover, that the pact will be extended despite French hesitations, if only because both Britain and the United States, the two most powerful signatories, favor its extension. Therefore the consequences of the talks which are to start again in a few days may well be the organization of the whole great border area of the North Atlantic, excepting only Spain, into a vast defensive alliance, supported and underwritten by the might of a rearming United States. This will be a direct consequence of Soviet policy since the war, and it might lead the rulers in the Kremlin to wonder whether, after all, the game they have been playing is really worth the candle.

I think it is no exaggeration to say that democracy as we know it is facing its greatest decade of greatest triumph. Certainly the greatest since the days of the war between the states.—General Eisenhower.

A Neighbor Looks Us Over

By HORACE SUTTON in the New York Times

HERE in British Columbia's island capital, 80 miles distant by sea from Seattle and Vancouver, there is never a day in the year when you cannot play golf and hardly a Christmas when you cannot pick a rose. Victoria, too, is probably one of the few places in the world where the city fathers fill baskets with marigolds, geraniums, fuschia, daisies and petunias and have them hung on virtually every lamp-post in town.

HIGH TEA

Much of the tourist life in Victoria revolves around the majestic ivy-covered Empress Hotel, operated by the Canadian Pacific Railroad, which overlooks the wharf. A high tea is served from silver service in the lobby of the Empress each afternoon.

Behind the Empress Hotel is the Crystal Garden, which, according to the advertisements, is the largest salt-water swimming pool under glass on the continent. The Crystal Garden also features dancing.

Thunderbird Park, across the street, is one of the most unique, and certainly appears to be the most grotesque, collection of totem poles and other Indian carved figures ever assembled. In the group is the original Tikikum, a dugout canoe no bigger than a rowboat in which Capt. J. C. Voss and one seaman safely sailed from Victoria to London in 1901 via Auckland, Melbourne and Capetown.

FINE SHOPS

There are a number of fine shops in town which feature English woolsens and the famous English bone china. At night the downtown streets are illuminated with strings of lights hung across the street from one flower-laden lamp-post to another.

Every inch of the multi-domed, ornate Parliament Building is also outlined with thousands of electric light bulbs, which after dark reflect in the shimmering harbor waters where the Seattle and Vancouver steamers are docked.

The steamers plying between Victoria and these two nearby ports on the mainland generally take five hours in either direction. By plane, via Trans-Canada Airlines, the trip to Seattle or to Vancouver takes just about half an hour.

In some sections of Victoria there is a great deal of Tudor-style architecture, and one home even sports a thatched roof imported from the British Isles. You can still hear a smattering of English accents, especially among the lawn bowlers who play each day on the greens near the Crystal Garden.

NOT MID-VICTORIAN

The local press and citizenry are currently incensed against the misconception that Victoria is a home for British Colonels retired from service in India. As far as the people of Victoria are concerned, they insist there is no reason to think them either stiff, conservative or English simply because they are known as Victorians.

Centenary Of A Sales Idea

U.K. Information Office.

THE middle of the last century was a great time for organizing; the world was changing, and people's ideas were changing, even more rapidly. Many of these ideas took permanent shape, and that is why so many of our modern institutions seem to be celebrating their first centenaries about now.

STATION STALLS

One of these anniversaries, which we in Britain should have been wrong to let pass without recognition, concerns the first of W. H. Smith's railway bookstalls, which now are found at every stopping place; the station was Euston, London; the date Nov. 1, 1848.

Not that the railway stations in Britain had been without bookstalls until then, but what there were seemed to have been rather low-class. They were said to be stocked only with "beer bottles, sandwiches, ginger bread and sticky sweets" (and worse still) "novels, unfortunately of questionable character." It was the merit of W. H. Smith (who later, by the way, became First Lord of the Admiralty and as such was the original for a character in the Gilbert and Sullivan opera H.M.S. Pinafore) that he realized what good business it would be to provide railway travelers with up-to-date newspapers and decent books.

STRANGERS DISCOURAGED

It has been unkindly suggested that his bookstalls were so successful because Englishmen have a horror of talking to strangers in railway carriages and always have to arm themselves with reading matter for a journey. But whether this is true or not, the fact remains that not only did Smith provide the stalls for the books, but he also printed the books for the stalls.

It was he who started the series which came to be known as "yellow backs"—cheap reprints of well-known books which hitherto had been available only in expensive three-volume editions. His first reprint was Mrs. Gaskell's "Cranford." It is amusing to read Smith's judgments on the British national character which he formed as a result of his bookstall trade. "Yorkshire," he said, "is not partial to poetry. It is difficult to sell a valuable book at any of the stations between Derby, Leeds and Manchester. Religious books hardly find a purchaser at Liverpool, while at Manchester, at the other end of the line, they are in high demand."

HIGHER BROW

Yorkshire seems to have heightened its brow since those days, since today it is the Yorkshire Pullman (a special train which runs between London and Yorkshire) on which most books are sold. Yes, the books have by now invaded the trains as well as the stations; and not only the steamships, the docks as well. Englishmen, traveling by any means, have no need to talk to each other if they don't want to.

Give Them A Chance

From the Vancouver Daily Province

EFFORTS BEING made in British Columbia to encourage employment of men over 45 can take a few pointers from a similar movement in Toronto, which has scored a big success.

FOUND JOBS

An experimental counseling service there has proved that men over 45 can find—and hold—a job. The Toronto service, set up by the National Employment Service last December, is directed by Dr. W. G. Scott, a psychologist. During a three-month period the service interviewed 329 applicants over 45. Out of that number 147 found their own jobs through suggestions of the counsellors.

A 60-year-old dentist's assistant was encouraged to take over a tourist camp. A 65-year-old watchman became a painter and an office clerk turned successfully to cabinet making.

"These people have good stuff in them but become discouraged when they lose their jobs because of their age," reports Dr. Scott.

TRICE AS BAD

In British Columbia the employment problem for the over 45's is said to be twice as bad as in the other provinces and for that reason we shall have to try twice as hard to overcome the prejudice against employing middle-ageders.

Actually middle-aged employees are good investments. Most of them are steady, hard-working and experienced. They offer at least 20 years of faithful service. They aren't likely to jump from job to job in the same way as younger workers.

Why they should have two strikes on them every time they look for work has never been very clearly explained. Employers, apparently, suffer from a vague phobia when they come to hiring a man over 45, even though he may be younger than themselves.

ARE WE PREPARED?

But, if that psychology can be overcome in stiff old Toronto surely we can lick it here. If we in B.C., and in the rest of Canada, aren't prepared to give the middle-aged a fair chance to earn their own way we should be prepared to pay them pensions, the same as the old folks. How would we feel about that?

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst.

THE BILL now before the Parliament of Elre, to sever the last remaining tie between that country and the Commonwealth, will cause no surprise to those who know the depth of the bitterness which the southern Irish feel for England.

That is strong language. But if you had been a witness of the "Bloody Easter week rebellion" of 1916—as I was—and had seen other phases of the strife in that tumultuous period—as I did—then you would understand. The spirit of independence flames fiercely in Elre, and the memories of her citizens are long.

STRIKING ILLUSTRATION

I ran into a striking illustration of this the last time I was in Dublin. I was out to take pictures of some of the old buildings of the capital, and wanted to include the House of Parliament. That was difficult because a huge statue of Queen Victoria stood right in front of the structure and all but cut off the front view. I had finally taken a couple of pictures when a uniformed officer came up and said:

"We can't have a picture of the Parliament Buildings taken with the Queen in front of it."

The officer carried away the film which I had handed him.

Within a few minutes a government official telephoned me at my hotel and apologized for the incident. My film was returned.

ONLY TIE

The only tie remaining between England and Elre is an act which allows the King to accredit Elre's representatives in foreign countries and to sign international agreements. That isn't much of a bond, but Prime Minister John Costello's bill will cut even that, if passed by Parliament.

However, British Commonwealth leaders in Paris predict that when the Costello bill has become law Britain and Elre will start negotiating a treaty for a close military and economic alliance, though this possibility is denied in Dublin.

SMART KIDS

LUCKY EXCEPTION

Winnipeg Free Press
Mr. Truman has managed to surround himself generally with an undistinguished cabinet in which General Marshall is an outstanding exception. He was lucky to get his Secretary of State. He will be lucky to get an adequate successor. Under present conditions, with the world crisis deepening, with the United States finally facing the great decision posed by the election, the world will hope that General Marshall will consent to serve at least a little longer.

NEW CARS FOR OLD

Earls Court, where crowds are now jostling round the new models as children use to flatten their noses against sweetshop windows, has—with one exception—got everything. Beneath banners on which are emblazoned the household names of British and of some foreign cars, all three kinds of motorists, will find their heart's desire. There are owners who really know what happens under a bonnet and there are others who have persuaded themselves that internal combustion is an open book.

The test between them, dividing sheep from goat, only comes on a dark, wet night a long way from the nearest garage when the engine falls silent or the near front tire goes flat. The third kind of motorist is a poor-spirited fellow, content if he reverses into an awkward car park without covering himself and his passengers in shame and confusion.

A man with a veteran so old that it was on the road when England last won an Australian Test match will find much to make him covetous, but not enough to discourage him from sticking to the old friend while petrol lasts. He will depart envying the lucky few who qualify for prompt attention and, unless he is indeed a model citizen, wondering how many of them are only euphemistically described as "essential" users.

Jacob Wied, Sentenced To Die Feb. 14, Will Appeal

Jacob E. Wied, 38-year-old carpenter, sentenced Saturday to be hanged for the July knife slaying of his wife, Evelyn, was escorted to Oakalla Prison Sunday.

Schedule to hang Feb. 14—St. Valentine's Day—Wied was placed in a death cell to await execution.

... awaits death penalty

Only hope for his life lay in an appeal which will be heard by the Court of Appeal sometime in January. Patrick J. Sinnott, counsel for the defence, said today the appeal would be heard at the earliest possible date.

Wied, a Ukrainian who came to Canada 19 years ago, left on the midnight boat Saturday for Oakalla, less than six hours after his conviction by an As-size court jury.

He was visibly shaken by the verdict which found him guilty of stabbing his wife. The jury took a little more than three hours to return a verdict of guilty.

The jury retired at 1.15 p.m., after Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane had made his charge. At 4.18 the jury announced its verdict to a packed courtroom.

Mr. Justice Macfarlane, before passing sentence, said: "I think you have had a fair trial—as fair as possibly could be had."

Wied at his trial claimed he was not in the room when the wound was inflicted and that it must have been accidental.

The Crown described the slaying as the result of "drink and a quarrel."

Egg Shortage Here Causes High Prices

An egg shortage is being felt in Victoria at the present time and grade A large eggs are costing the consumer between 76 and 78 cents a dozen.

City wholesalers anticipate some relief in the situation in about two weeks' time.

The present shortage they attribute to a low hatch this spring. Export of eggs from Vancouver to Hawaii and Japan is also a contributing factor.

Trial For Bigamy Opens At Assizes

On the anniversary of his alleged illegal marriage a year ago today, Harold Horton Clarke, was charged in Assize Court today with bigamy.

The 49-year-old mechanic is accused of unlawfully marrying on Nov. 22, 1947, Marguerite Connor when he was already married to Mrs. Agnes H. M. Clarke.

The jury trial opened with Mrs. Clarke, wife of the accused, testifying that she had married her husband in 1921 in Victoria. She was the mother of seven children, she said.

Mrs. Clarke said that a Supreme Court judgment rendered by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane approximately a year ago granted her a separation from her husband.

James Froudford, counsel for the defense, asked the witness if she thought her husband believed he had been granted a divorce when judgment in the separation action was handed down in the Supreme Court.

She said she did not know what her husband was thinking.

Blockade Linked With War In China

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. Lai Lien, member of the Yuan (Legislative Assembly) in China, said Saturday Russia is using the Berlin blockade and threat of war in western Europe to screen warlike activity in supporting the Chinese Communist army drive in China.

"Unless China receives military and economic assistance from the western powers immediately the war in China might develop into another world war," he told reporters at a press conference in the Chinese embassy here.

"If they don't aid us the future is black—not only for China but for the whole democratic world."

He termed as "completely wrong" the impression in Canada and the United States that a civil war is raging in China.

"It is a war of democracy against Communism," he said.

Assets Of Imperial Bank Show Big Gain; Deposits At New High

Financial statement of Imperial Bank of Canada for the year ended Oct. 31, 1948, mailed to shareholders, shows total assets substantially higher, 471,843,256, compared with $415,081,511 a year earlier. Profits after taxes are up moderately, to $138 per share from $120 per share. Dividends are now being paid at the rate of $1.20 per year. The balance forward is increased by $234,113 to $1,515,778.

Deposits by governments and the public are up to $430,100,397, from $377,841,638 a year ago. Dominion government deposits are up nearly $10,000,000 to $17,112,178 and deposits by provinces up over $11,000,000 to $30,860,562. Other liabilities have not greatly altered from the previous statement.

Cash, comprising coin, and notes of or deposits with the Bank of Canada, totals $41,336,392, up from $38,796,688. Amounts due from or notes of other banks bring the immediately realizable assets to $70,042,801, up over $116,930,402.

FORT MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—A balloon altitude record of 140,000 feet — 27,200 feet higher than any balloon had ever gone and almost 13 miles higher than human beings have managed to climb—was claimed Saturday by the United States Army Signal Corps.

The Signal Corps is using the high-altitude balloons to carry delicate scientific instruments aloft to investigate the atmosphere.

Speculation On Extent Of Coming Federal Tax Cuts

By CANADIAN PRESS

Although the federal government now has a budgetary surplus of some $533,600,000, Finance Minister Abbott is warning Canadians not to expect him to break the record he set last year.

Mr. Abbott wound up the 1947-48 fiscal year with a record-breaking surplus of $670,000,000. He said recently the surplus this year likely will not be more than $500,000,000 and will be nowhere near the $1,000,000,000 which some Canadians were setting as the probable surplus.

Although revenues may run ahead of expenditures right until the final month of the year, there are a number of lump sum payments which will eat quickly into the surplus.

For instance, $297,000,000 will be taken out of the treasury next March to refund the compulsory savings taken from Canadians during the war along with their income tax payments. The payment will represent debt retirement, but at the same time it will be a charge against the treasury.

Naturally, with a third successive surplus assured, there has been unofficial speculation in political circles as to the probable size of the tax cuts which Mr. Abbott will announce in his next budget.

There is no indication Mr. Abbott plans to depart from his practice of budgeting for surpluses in times of plenty and applying them against the public debt.

In a recent speech, Mr. Abbott said:

"Surely, a time when virtually all our people are employed, when our national income is at an all time high, is a time when we should make some effort to reduce the tremendous obligations which we have had to assume as a result of the two great world wars. Surely a budgetary surplus of somewhere between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 in a year when our national income will probably exceed $15,000,000,000 is not unreasonable."

Opening Ceremony Later This Month

Works Minister E. C. Carson is trying to arrange the official opening of the new Courthouse building at Port Alberni for later this month.

The opening was originally scheduled for last week but was indefinitely postponed when the Alberni Road was blocked Nov. 14 by the rock slide at Angel's Rock on the shore of Cameron Lake.

Mr. Carson and other government officials are expected to attend the opening ceremony.

Eisenhower's Book Draws Fire Of Press In Britain

LONDON (AP) — The Conservative London Sunday Times criticized Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's new book, "Crisis in Europe," as a "blow at British-American friendship and understanding."

"The reports of Gen. Eisenhower's book make surprising and painful reading for his admirers and for all those who wish well to British-American relations," the newspaper declared editorially.

Another London newspaper, the Sunday Pictorial, said that "the extravagance of the bouquets he hands to some of the American generals is in strange contrast to the chilly praise with which he so nearly damns Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery."

NO REPLY MADE
(In New York a spokesman for Columbia University, of which Eisenhower is president, said the general would make no comment.)

Referring to an accompanying copyright article on the book by its military correspondent, the Sunday Times said "it is right that an answer (to Eisenhower) should be given, untruths exposed and wrong judgments corrected."

The Sunday Times military correspondent wrote: "One is forced to the con-

They'll Do It Every Time

"IT HAS BEEN MOVED AND SECONDED THAT THE LODGE SECRETARY BE GIVEN THE NOBLE TASK OF COMPILING, EDITING AND MAILING A FOUR-PAGE MONTHLY BULLETIN TO ALL OUR MEMBERS. ARE THERE ANY OTHER MOTIONS?"

"I MOVE THAT THE SECRETARY BE INSTRUCTED TO DRAW UP AND SUBMIT A RESOLUTION, WHEREAS, TO WIT—HEREAFTER—IT SHALL BE THE DUTY OF THE SECRETARY TO PERSONALLY INVESTIGATE ALL SICK BENEFITS."

"I THINK THE NEXT MOVE WILL BE OUT TO THE CEMETERY, FOR THE SECRETARY—AND HE LOOKS LIKE HE'D WELCOME THE TRIP."

clusion that Gen. Eisenhower considers that the war was really won by America, that every American view was right, every British idea wrong."

Eisenhower, he said "forgets to mention that Britain was at war for two years with pitifully inadequate defenses while the United States looked on."

"The plain truth is that Britain suffered losses, offered sacrifices and sustained a burden that was unequalled by any other Allied nation, except possibly Russia, and certainly not the United States."

Declaring "hardly any British leader escapes Eisenhower's censure," the military correspondent said "history will record that the invasion of Southern France was a strategic blunder of the first magnitude, and that it was an American blunder."

MONTGOMERY'S PLAN
The writer defends Lord Montgomery's plan for ending the war by the end of 1944 with a concentration of the Allied advance on the left through Brussels and into the North German plains which he said Eisenhower described as a "pencil-like thrust which would meet certain destruction."

"This is grossly misleading," the Sunday Times correspondent said. "The right flank was to be on the Ardennes and the left flank on the North Sea; over 1,000,000 men would have been involved in the movement."

"Had Montgomery's plan been adopted it would have shortened the war."

Lucky Patients To See Grey Cup Final

C.C.F. Re-elects Leader

Ailments Of Amateur Sport To Be Aired At National Meeting

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Canadian amateur sport is due for a "shot in the arm" when representatives of the Dominion's sports-governing bodies meet in Ottawa, Jan. 7-8.

Indication that the meeting, called by the National Council of Physical Fitness, would be a fact-finding conference to study the "ills" of Canadian sport was evident at concluding sessions of the three-day annual get-together of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Cures will be presented by organizations, from fencing to hockey.

Notice that the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association would be represented at the January meeting was given by George Dudley of Midland, Ont., secretary-manager of the C.A.H.A. Dudley, who attended the Saturday A.A.U. session, served notice also that Canada's hockey participation in future Olympic Games would be brought up.

He told the meeting the International Olympic Committee had wiped hockey off the Olympic slate and warned that "we shall have something to say about that" at the January congress. He termed the I.O.C. an "autocratic" organization for its action, taken during the winter games in Switzerland last February.

The ball-rolling for a general review of Canadian sport was started by George C. Machum of Montreal, past president of the A.A.U., who presented what he labelled "the Machum plan for amateur sport."

His program called for a "co-ordinating council for amateur sport"—a council composed of representatives of every amateur sport in the country, which would have as its aim the collection of data on all sports and the task of seeking financial aid for those organizations that need it.

Two of the amendments to the minor league agreement which will be considered at the Minneapolis convention in December concern the status of the player-bus driver. . . One would rule that such extra employment entirely; another would permit clubs in class A and below to give extra pay to "not more than two players for bona fide service as driver of the club's bus."

It appears that some clubs have been using this and other odd jobs as a means of cheating on salary limits.

'Jassy' At York Romantic Drama

A romantic drama of the 1830's, "Jassy" marks the first Technicolor picture to come from Gainsborough studios. The film will open today at the York Theatre.

Based on Norah Lofts' delightful novel of the same name, the film was produced by Sydney Box with Bernard Knowles directing. Jassy is a gypsy girl with the gift of second sight. From a humble servant girl she eventually succeeds in becoming mistress of a fine old English mansion, but not for selfish gains. She returns Mordelaine to its rightful owner—the man she loves.

"Jassy" is Margaret Lockwood's first Technicolor picture and gives her a fine role.

'Anna Karenina' On Atlas Screen

Hailed as a new romantic star discovery, tall, dark and handsome Kieron Moore will be seen with stars Vivien Leigh and Ralph Richardson in Alexander Korda's production of "Anna Karenina," the new Twentieth Century-Fox release opening today at the Atlas Theatre.

With Miss Leigh in the title role, Moore is seen as Vronsky in the classic Tolstoy story of one of the most fascinating love affairs in all literature.

ODEON THEATRE

The hilarious new Abbott and Costello comedy, "Abbott and Costello Meet Frankenstein," is currently on the screen at the Odeon Theatre.

CRUSADE IN EUROPE

by Dwight D. Eisenhower

This is a condensed serialization of Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe." It contains highlights of the book to be published November 22, 1948, by Doubleday & Company. Copyrighted by Doubleday & Company, Inc.

German Defenders At Caen So Stubborn Allies Change Plans

The first critical objective of the Normandy campaign, which was to establish a secure beachhead with adequate avenues of supply in the area between Cherbourg and the mouth of the Orne, was fully accomplished by the end of June.

From the beginning, it was the conception of Montgomery, Bradley, and myself that eventually the great movement out of the beachhead would be by an enormous left wheel, bringing our front onto the line of the Seine, with the whole area lying between that area lying between that river and the Loire and as far eastward as Paris in our firm possession.

An important point in our calculations was the line from which we originally intended to execute this wheel. This part of our tactical prognostications did not work out and required adjustment. The line that we actually held when the breakout began on D plus 50 was approximately that planned for D plus 5.

This was a far different story, but one which had to be accepted. Battle is not a one-sided affair. It is a case of action and reciprocal action repeated over and over again as contestants seek to gain position and other advantage by which they may inflict the greatest damage upon their respective opponents.

British Attracted Enemy's Strength

By June 30 Montgomery had obviously become convinced, as Bradley and I already had, that the breakout would have to be launched from a more restricted line. His directive of that date clearly stated that the British Second Army on the left would continue its attacks to attract the greatest possible portion of enemy strength, while the American forces, which had captured Cherbourg four days before, would begin attacking southward with a view to final breakout on the right flank.

This, of course, placed upon the American forces a more onerous and irksome task than had at first been anticipated. However, Bradley thoroughly understood the situation of the moment and as early as June 20 had expressed to me the conviction that the breakout on the right would have to be initiated from positions near St. Lo, rather than from the more southerly line originally planned. He sensed the task with his usual imperturbability and set about it in workmanlike fashion.

Complicating the problem of the breakout on the American front was the prevalence of formidable hergerows in the bocage country. In this region the fields have for centuries been divided into very small areas, sometimes scarcely more than building-lot size, each surrounded by a dense and heavy hedge which ordinarily grows out of a bank of earth three or four feet in height.

Tanks Upended By Ledges Helpless

Our tanks could help but little. Each, attempting to penetrate a hedgerow, was forced to climb almost vertically, thus exposing the unprotected belly of the tank and rendering it easy prey to any type of armor-piercing bullet. Equally exasperating was the fact that, with the tank snout thrust skyward, it was impossible to bring guns to bear upon the enemy; crews were helpless to defend themselves or to destroy the German.

In this dilemma an American sergeant named Culin came forth with a simple invention that restored the effectiveness of the tank and gave a tremendous boost to morale throughout the army. It consisted merely in fastening to the front of the tank two sturdy blades of steel which, acting somewhat as scythes, cut through the bank of earth and hedges. This not only allowed the tank to penetrate the obstacle on an even keel and with its guns firing, but actually allowed it to carry forward, for some distance, a natural camouflage of amputated hedge.

A feature of the incident from which our soldiers derived a gleeful satisfaction was that the steel for the cutting blades was obtained from the obstacles which the German had installed so profusely over the beaches of Normandy to prevent our landing on that coast.

By July 2, 1944, we had landed in Normandy about 1,000,000 men, including 13 American, 11 British, and one Canadian divisions. In the same period we put ashore 566,648 tons of supplies and 171,532 vehicles. It was all hard and exhausting work, but its accomplishment paid off in big dividends when finally we were ready to go full out against the enemy.

During these first three weeks we took 41,000 prisoners. Our casualties totaled 60,771, of whom 8,975 were killed.

The July battling all along the front involved some of the fiercest and most sanguinary fighting of the war. On the American front every attack was channelized by swamps and streams and the ground was unusually advantageous to the defense.

Finally on July 25, seven weeks after D-Day, the attack was launched, from the approximate line we had expected to hold on D plus 5 stretching from Caen through Caumont to St. Lo. A tremendous carpet, or area, bombing was placed along the St. Lo section of the American front and its stunning effect upon the enemy lasted throughout the day. Unfortunately a mistake by part of the bombing forces caused a considerable number of casualties in one battalion of the Ninth Division and in the 30th Division, and killed Lt. Gen. Lesley McNair, who had gone into an observation post to watch the beginning of the attack.

Progress on the first day was slow, but that evening General Bradley observed to me that it was always slow going in the early phases of such an attack and expressed the conviction that the next day and thereafter would witness extraordinary advances by our forces. The events proved him to be completely correct.

With a clean and decisive breakout achieved, Bradley's immediate problem became that of inflicting on the enemy the greatest possible destruction. All else could wait upon his exploitation of this golden opportunity, in the certainty that with the enemy destroyed everything else could quickly be set right.

His scheme was to throw every unit he could spare elsewhere directly at the rear of the German forces still in place between Caen and the vicinity of Avranches. In effect, he hoped to encircle the enemy forces, which were still compelled to face generally northward against the Canadians and British.

The battlefield at Falaise, after General Bradley had wheeled around the German First and Seventh Armies, became one of the greatest "killing grounds" of the war. Forty-eight hours after the Americans had come full circle to close the gap with their British and Canadian allies, General Eisenhower walked across this battlefield and he writes that only Dante could describe the death and destruction he witnessed.

The 17th instalment of "Crusade in Europe," which will be published in the Victoria Times tomorrow, also describes one of the longest-sustained arguments between General Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill in the course of the war. This was over "Dragoon," the code word for the landing in the south of France. The dispute on this point has never been told before.

Greatest Possible Destruction Needed

In the following week he slashed his way downward to the base of the peninsula, passing through the bottleneck at Avranches, and launched his columns into the rear of the German forces. At this moment, on Aug. 1, General Patton, with Third Army Headquarters, was brought up into the battle to take charge of the operations on the First Army's right flank.

With a clean and decisive breakout achieved, Bradley's immediate problem became that of inflicting on the enemy the greatest possible destruction. All else could wait upon his exploitation of this golden opportunity, in the certainty that with the enemy destroyed everything else could quickly be set right.

His scheme was to throw every unit he could spare elsewhere directly at the rear of the German forces still in place between Caen and the vicinity of Avranches. In effect, he hoped to encircle the enemy forces, which were still compelled to face generally northward against the Canadians and British.

The battlefield at Falaise, after General Bradley had wheeled around the German First and Seventh Armies, became one of the greatest "killing grounds" of the war. Forty-eight hours after the Americans had come full circle to close the gap with their British and Canadian allies, General Eisenhower walked across this battlefield and he writes that only Dante could describe the death and destruction he witnessed.

The 17th instalment of "Crusade in Europe," which will be published in the Victoria Times tomorrow, also describes one of the longest-sustained arguments between General Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill in the course of the war. This was over "Dragoon," the code word for the landing in the south of France. The dispute on this point has never been told before.

Bank Of Commerce Reports Record Year-End Assets

Record year-end assets are shown in the annual statement of The Canadian Bank of Commerce for the 12 months ending October. Total assets increased by more than $102,000,000 over last year, chiefly because of higher loans and larger holdings of Dominion Government and other securities. The aggregate assets exceeded $1,500,000,000 for the first time in the bank's long record, dating back to 1867. Total liabilities show a corresponding increase, the greatest part of which is made up of savings by the public and Government deposits. The statement taken as a whole reflects increased business activity throughout Canada and the high level of national income.

Quick assets of $4,032,000,000 were 70 per cent. of total liabilities to the public, and nearly $50,000,000 above last year. Of these, cash and cash items at $208,000,000 were practically unchanged, though there were minor changes in certain categories, the most important being an increase of $6,000,000 in notes of and deposits with the Bank of Canada, bringing the total to over $134,000,000, and a decline of nearly $5,000,000 in notes and cheques on other banks, now shown as slightly below $39,000,000. Balances carried with other banks, about $31,000,000, were also less than a year previous. Holdings of securities were almost $800,000,000, a rise of about $50,000,000 within the year. The more important changes in the portfolio were an increase of $34,000,000 in Dominion Government securities to a total of $595,000,000, an increase of $52,000,000 in short-term overbalancing a decline of $18,000,000 in those of longer maturities. Holdings of provincial government securities were close to $68,000,000, as compared with about $70,000,000 in 1947. Canadian municipal security holdings, approaching $22,000,000, were slightly higher. Public securities other than Canadian were $47,000,000 were nearly $18,000,000 below the previous year, while other bonds, debentures and stocks increased to about $65,000,000. Total call loans in Canada and abroad show little change at $27,000,000.

Deposits by the public bearing interest increased from $770,000,000 to over $821,000,000, and those not bearing interest from $478,000,000 to $487,000,000, these two items coupled with Dominion Government balances of $49,000,000 (as against $14,000,000 last year), accounting for the greater part of the advance in total deposits, which were $1,405,000,000 compared with $1,311,000,000 a year previous.

5 States Adopt Color Scheme Similar To B.C. For Car Licenses

Five states of the U.S. and one Canadian province have adopted 1949 automobile license plates with color schemes similar to those for British Columbia.

This was reported today by the American Automobile Association.

Color of B.C.'s 1949 auto license plates was fixed some months ago. The plates will be black on deep yellow.

Other areas with the black on yellow colors are: California, District of Columbia, Louisiana, North Carolina, North Dakota, West Virginia and Manitoba.

In 15 states and in Manitoba and Quebec only one plate will be issued for 1949. B.C. adopted one plate during the war but since the war has returned to the two-plate identification system. In B.C. there will be 98 offices throughout the province where the plates may be purchased. The headquarters here will start filling mail orders Jan. 3. Over the counter sales will begin Feb. 1.

Anytime now the headquarters here expects the flood of requests for special numbers, which have special meanings to the askers, to start coming in to the local office.

For the first time the issue in 1949 is expected to exceed the 200,000 mark. There are more than 195,000 licensed motor vehicles and motorcycles in the province today and the number is increasing monthly.

Superintendents Of All Sunday Schools Form Association

For mutual encouragement and to help solve common problems, leaders of various denominational Sunday Schools in this area have organized themselves into what is to be known as the Greater Victoria Sunday School Superintendents' Association.

Promoters of the organization feel the association will fill a long-felt need here.

A meeting of the association will be held Tuesday night at 8 in the Victoria West United Church to discuss the teaching of worship services during the Christmas season.

Subjects to be dealt with, and speakers, will be: "Christmas Foretold," O. Caudle, Wilkinson Road United Church; "Jesus, Light of the World," S. Cameron, Royal Oak Baptist; "Jesus, Both Gift and Giver," Miss E. Weaver, Anglican, and "The Christian Story," Mrs. W. McGill, First Baptist Church.

Sunday School superintendents from all churches are invited to attend and take part in the meeting.

Victoria Company Gets Wharf Contract

Construction of a new float, wharf and approaches and repairs to the breakwater at the William Head Quarantine Station will be undertaken for the federal works department by the Victoria Pile Driving Co. Ltd., it was learned here today.

The work will cost $7,748. Word that the federal government had authorized the tender of the Victoria firm was received by W. E. Poupore, Liberal candidate for Nanaimo.

Fresh Cranberries Sweet Potatoes Not For Holiday Trade

Housewives who have already prepared a list of things they will require for Christmas dinner can mark fresh cranberries and sweet potatoes off the list right away. There won't be any. Under the provisions of Canada's austerity program, the import of cranberries and sweet potatoes into this country from the United States is prohibited.

While some cranberries are grown in Canada there are not nearly enough to meet the great demand. To bring any to Victoria would require shipment by express and the price would be terrifically high.

Sweet potatoes and yams, usually on the market at this time of year, are grown in California and Louisiana.

Householders here seem puzzled that they cannot buy these commodities this year although they could get all they wanted one year ago. The austerity program was in effect then and the shortage of U.S. dollars in this country was reported to be worse at that time than it is today.

Woman Hurt In Motor Accident

An elderly woman was taken to Jubilee Hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in one of a series of accidents involving cars on city streets during the week-end. Several of the drivers, police said, will be charged in court.

Mrs. Ilena Komack, 72, 2636 Blanchard Street, a passenger in a car driven by Adolf J. Buckhard, 2309 Quadra Street, was taken to hospital suffering from shock and complaining of head injuries, at 6:55 Sunday evening. This car, proceeding south on Blanchard, was in collision with one proceeding east on Quadra Street in charge of Patrick J. Medd, 1013 View Street, at the intersection. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $150.

Cars driven by W. D. Herbert, 102 Wellington Street, and Edwin C. Jones, 1507 Chambers Street, met in collision at Fort and Cook Streets at 1:20 Sunday morning, police said. No one was hurt.

There were no injuries Sunday night when vehicles driven by James Forsyth, 227 Menzies Street, and Mary Louise Edwards, 1485 Derby Street, collided at Humboldt and Government Streets.

About $3000 damage was done to two cars which collided at Quadra and Pandora Avenue Saturday evening. They were driven by James Walker, 2819 Scott Street, and William D. Johnson, 2172 North Lafayette Street. A few minutes later at the same intersection, cars driven by Douglas Worthington, 1237 Oscar Street, and William G. Wilson, 846 Courtney Street, collided.

F. R. Gullik, Australian government trade commissioner at Vancouver, paid a courtesy call on Mayor Percy E. George today.

Monday Parade Of Celebrants Reaches New High In Court

The parade of Saturday celebrants in police court today was the heaviest in a long while. Most of them were rounded up by policemen in the lower part of town Saturday night.

In all the charges laid the fine total was $375. Jail sentences imposed as an alternative to payment aggregated seven months.

Most fines were paid. Seventeen white persons, with no previous convictions marked against them, paid $10 fines each for being intoxicated in a public place. Fifteen were released on bail after being arrested Saturday. They did not appear in the court and their bail was ordered estreated.

Roland D. Fawcett and Robert H. Ross both pleaded guilty to supplying Indian women with intoxicants. They were fined $50 or one month in jail each. The two Indian girls were each fined $25 or one month in jail.

Three Indian men pleaded guilty to drunkenness and got the usual fine of $10 or three days each.

Stanley E. Scurrah Fourth Candidate For City Commission

A former Saanich police commissioner, Stanley E. Scurrah, announced today he will seek election at the Dec. 9 elections to the city police commission.

Mr. Scurrah, managing director of B.C. Airlines Ltd., resigned from the Saanich commission in March of this year, when he sold his property in the municipality and was no longer eligible to hold public office.

He now resides at 870 Topaz Avenue, and he believes his experience as a Saanich commissioner stands him in good stead for a seat on the city board.

There is only one vacancy on the city commission this year. Commissioner Burgess J. Gadsden's term of office expires. The commissioner says he will ask the voters to return him to office. There are two other candidates besides the present commissioner and Mr. Scurrah.

The other two are Archie Smith, manager of the customers' services department of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, who is the choice of the Non-Partisan League, and Charles de Lure, taxi company proprietor.

Mr. Scurrah was elected to the Saanich commission in December, 1946, and he served as a commissioner for a year and a half. There were five candidates for one seat on the board when he headed the poll by a substantial margin.

In his election campaigning, Mr. Scurrah will oppose Commissioner Gadsden's plan to reduce the city police force. He says Victoria is growing and the police department must keep in step with the growth of the community.

Mr. Scurrah is 37 years of age. He was born in Toronto and was brought here in infancy. He received his education in the city.

Notable Increase In Assets, Deposits Of Dominion Bank

Operations for the year ended Oct. 30, 1948, are summarized in the Dominion Bank's 78th annual statement, which has gone forward to the bank's shareholders. The statement indicates a strong cash and liquid position, deposits substantially higher, and a parallel increase in investments and commercial loans. Total assets of over $393,000,000 are the highest in the bank's history.

Deducting federal and provincial government taxes of $950,000 and writing $247,000 off bank premises, net profits are shown at $1,122,097, compared with last year's total of $971,678. Dividends at 10 per cent per annum amounted to $700,000, leaving $422,097 to be carried forward to profit and loss account, bringing the latter to $1,054,510. No change is shown in capital ($7,000,000) and reserve ($10,000,000).

Deposits increased by the substantial figure of $35,000,000 to a total of $358,501,000, compared with $323,277,000 last year. Non-interest bearing deposits increased $13,804,000 to a total of $125,803,000; interest-bearing were up $13,499,000 to $213,595,000, while deposits by federal and provincial governments increased $7,970,000 to a total of $19,103,000.

CHINESE ROBBED
A total of $15 in silver, a gold pocket watch, a clock and a straight razor, were stolen from the home of Charles Ming, St. Charles Street, during the week-end, police report. Entry was gained by breaking the screw bolt from the padlock on the door.

K. R. Genn To Seek Saanich Seat Again

Two newest developments in the Saanich election race today, were the announcements of Councillor K. R. Genn that he will seek re-election and that Commissioner Fred Marconi will not seek to retain his seat on the Saanich Police Board.

Councillor Genn was elected to the Ward 5 seat on the council last December and this morning said he would stand for re-election. Commissioner Marconi was elected to finish the term of Stanley Scurrah after the latter resigned earlier this year.

7 Fined In Court After Police Raid On Gaming House

Fred Barber was fined $50 in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to being the keeper of a common gaming house at 1304 Government Street, while six inmates at the time of the Saturday police raid were fined $25 each.

Barber was the only one to appear in court. The others had their $25 bails estreated.

Perry Miller, appearing for the keeper, said the slot machine, otherwise known as a "one-armed bandit," which was shown in court, was not being used on the premises. Counsel said his client only moved into the place a week ago and that the slot machine had been in the cupboard when he moved in.

Mr. Miller said his client did not claim ownership of the machine. It was ordered confiscated by Magistrate H. C. Hall at the request of C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor.

The gambling house raid squad was in charge of Inspector John Howe and included Sergeants W. Andrews, P. Atkinson and Constables W. Reekier and L. Somers.

Manslaughter Case Decision Friday

Decision as to whether Mrs. Phyllis Margaret McMurray, 850 Yates Street, will have to stand trial at the Assizes on a charge of manslaughter over the traffic death Oct. 22 of Mrs. J. S. Fawcett, 69 of 895 Island Highway, will be handed down Friday by A. I. Thomas, J.P.

The preliminary hearing concluded this morning in Provincial Police Court. George F. Gregory, counsel for Mrs. McMurray contended there was insufficient evidence to make her stand trial. He asked Mr. Thomas to rule that there was no evidence on which to convict and said that the Crown had not proved that the accident was the cause of death.

Alex Pearson, appearing for the Crown called on Provincial Police Constable William Stark and James P. White, attendant on the ambulance which brought Mrs. Fawcett to hospital, to give testimony.

Alert Police Force After Curb-Hoppers

Never underestimate the power of the city police force.

Saturday, Insp. John Blackstock warned citizens that members of his department would begin checking up on pedestrians who insist on jumping the traffic lights and leave the curb on an amber light.

Today at a busy downtown intersection, an elderly man ignored a policeman's whistle from the opposite corner and kept right on going without waiting for a green light.

He had barely reached the other side of the street when a motorcycle constable roared up, stopped, and while still astride his vehicle, handed out a stiff warning, and pointed to the traffic signals.

The foot patrolman on the diagonally opposite corner, smiled approvingly as he viewed the scene.

Esquimalt C.C.F. Re-elect Webber As 1949 Candidate

HARRY WEBBER ... gets second chance

The Esquimalt C.C.F. organization, at a nominating convention held in the Women's Institute Hall, Langford, Sunday re-elected Harry Webber, veteran C.C.F. campaigner from Shawnigan Lake, to bear the C.C.F. standard in Esquimalt constituency during the next provincial general election.

Mr. Webber won over Frank Mitchell of Admirals Road, Esquimalt, the only other name to go on the convention ballot. A McIntyre of Langford had withdrawn from the contest before the balloting started. Mr. Webber's nomination was made unanimous on motion of Mr. McIntyre.

A pioneer C.C.F.er Mr. Webber has held several prominent positions in the C.C.F. provincial executive. He is also a past president of the Malahat branch of the Canadian Legion and a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

In the 1945 general election Cmr. C. T. Beard, the coalition candidate, defeated Mr. Webber 2,568 to 1,989.

SAYS C.C.F. TO WIN

Murray Bryce, member of the C.C.F. provincial executive and defeated candidate in Victoria during the 1945 election, addressing the convention, predicted a C.C.F. victory in 1949 "because people were tired of a government which would levy a sales tax on the working people of the province while leaving almost untaxed the great corporations making millions of dollars out of the resources of B.C."

The C.C.F. were organizing to follow up C.C.F. victories in Yale and Vancouver Centre federal by-elections, he said.

"The money will all be on the Coalition," he continued, "but it won't do them any more good than it did Mr. Dewey and his big business politicians."

TO FOLLOW TREND

"The same trend to the left that showed in the election of the Labor Party in Britain, the C.C.F. in Saskatchewan and the northern Democrats in the United States will soon be reflected in B.C. politics. This is the great postwar trend to a new deal for the common man."

Turning from provincial issues to international affairs the convention passed a resolution condemning the action of the Canadian government in selling war material to the Chinese Nationalists. The C.C.F. felt that Canada should not take sides in the Chinese civil war.

U.N. Failing Without God Holland Tells Conference

The United Nations has failed so far in its objective of world co-operation because it has not recognized its moral duties and the power of God.

This was the essence of an address by Sir Robert Holland at the 11th annual conference of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs and the American Institute of Pacific Relations held in Victoria during the week-end.

Sir Robert charged that the framers of the U.N. charter had left mention of God out, presumably because of fear of objection from countries adhering to the anti-God philosophy of Marxism.

Without a common doctrine, no world organization can command loyalty and wholehearted support, he said.

He wanted to see the U.N. charter illumined with a philosophy which acknowledges the existence of God, inculcate morality and sets, as the common goal, "the building of the Kingdom of God on earth through unity of spirit."

POWERLESS TO STOP WAR

If the Soviets refused to co-operate under this scheme of things, Sir Robert believed the other nations should proceed without them.

He believed that the U.N. has already shown itself powerless to outlaw war or put a stop to hostilities as they break out in the world, and that the people of the democratic countries are becoming dissatisfied with the organization, convinced that it has some fundamental defect.

He warned that the world is already in the shadow of a third aggressive war, one which, if it comes, would probably involve eventually the crash of civilization.

Also addressing the institutes was Dr. William B. Ballis, former member of the U.S. States Department and a member of the U.S. embassy in Russia during 1945-46.

TWO-FACED FOREIGN POLICY

Dr. Ballis, now professor of Russian at the University of Washington, said Soviet Russia conducts its international relations under two policies, one the co-operation in international organizations, and the other the use of world Communism.

He said that although the Communist International was abolished in 1943, the Soviets had shown they believe in organizing more states on Communist lines when they established the Communist Information Bureau in 1947.

Soviet foreign policy is an extension of internal policy, based on principles of Marxism, Leninism and Stalinism, he said, adding that the Soviets teach there are two centres to the world, capitalism and socialism, with capitalism doomed to defeat.

Canada and the U.S., said Dr. Ballis, are the two main remaining bulwarks of free enterprise and it is up to them "to show the world that the free enterprise system, in the framework of democratic institutions that recognize the dignity of the individual, can counteract the theories and practice of the Soviets."

GENERAL AGREEMENT

The three-day conference, which ended Sunday afternoon, devoted itself to economic and political round table discussions which sought to make an evaluation of postwar Asia. Although there were varying opinions, the delegates generally found some common meeting ground. Aid to China was given considerable discussion, as well as the necessity of agrarian reform and the future of Japan.

It appeared to be the general opinion of the delegates that one of the main necessities in the Far East was to get at the basic and age-old problem of improving the conditions under which the people there are living.

Eleanor Roosevelt To Visit Vancouver

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the late U.S. president, will be in Vancouver March 4 to speak at a meeting in the Vancouver Forum.

Mrs. Roosevelt will appear under the sponsorship of the Vancouver Optimist Club. It is believed she will not make any other speaking appearances while in the Pacific Northwest.

No arrangements have been made to have her visit Victoria.

Don Hall Leads Vets To Win Over Y.M.C.A.

Easiest way to beat the Y.M.C.A. cage squad appears to be to stop the scoring antics of Johnny Clark.

Pro Pats did just that on Saturday night—Clark being held to one field goal—and the veterans came through with a 46 to 43 triumph to put a halt to a six-game Y.M.C.A. winning streak.

Spark of the veteran's team was Don Hall six-foot, three-inch forward, Hall put on a one-man show in the second half of the game to score 18 points which added to his first-half total of three gave him 21 points for the night's work.

As a matter of fact Hall accounted for 18 of the Pro Pats last 21 points as the veterans stormed from behind a 23 to 21 first-half deficit.

The game was played close to the chest all the way. Y took the lead in the first quarter and after once building up a six-point margin in the second quarter reached the breather with the two-point edge.

Pro Pats took over soon after the intermission and for better than 15 minutes of the final half the squads matched hoop for hoop.

DALE TIES SCORE

With the vets leading 43 to 40 and less than two minutes to play, Vic Dale got loose under the hoop and dropped in a field goal to cut the lead. Fouled on the shot Dale calmly sank his gift toss to tie the score.

But the vets were not to be denied and Don Hall again stepped to the fore as he bucketed a pair of free tosses to regain the lead. Jim Ireland added the clincher on another free toss seconds before the end of the game.

K.V.'S WALLOP EAGLES

In the other senior A contest K.V.'s with a couple of ex-senior B stars showing the way drubbed the Eagles squad, 52 to 28 with a great second-half spurt.

At Seed up from Norm Parkins' senior B team found the hoop for 12 points in his first senior A effort while Elmer Curtis, who is up in senior company to stay, duplicated Seed's feat.

Eagles, who last week upset Pro Pats, were only in the Saturday game for the first half as they held K.V.'s to a 28 to 22 margin. After the intermission K.V.'s rolled through the Aerie unit to pile up the score.

In a junior boys preliminary, Esquimalt nipped Mount Tolmie, 25 to 17.

Teams and scores follow: Y.M.C.A.—Clark 2, Reg. Clarkson 11, V. Clarkson 9, Wright 2, Dale 10, Mason 1, Changranes, Baxter 2.

Pro Pats—Hall 4, D. Hall 21, Booth 3, Fox 13, Ellis 2, Ireland 3, J. McKeachie.

K.V.—McCashey, Curtis, 12, Anderson 4, F. Ranson 2, McKay 4, Caster 6, Prior 5, Watson 2, Seed 10, Ireland 3, J. McKeachie.

Eagles—Browning, Seed 2, J. Ranson 6, Long 2, McCorkill 6, Page 2, B. Anderson 2.

Esquimalt—A.A.—Douglas 4, Adams 6, Saunders 7, Burns 5, Fletcher, Pearce, Hunter 2.

Mt. Tolmie—Bylles, Peterson 2, Hall 3, Hanson, Skyles, Gillespie, White 2, Bennett 4, Newton 2, Culppeper.

White Sox Reported Seeking Dillinger

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago White Sox were reported last night to be considering a $100,000-player deal involving third baseman Bob Dillinger of St. Louis Browns.

In preliminary talks, the Browns are said to have asked $100,000 and three Sox players for Dillinger, who batted .321 last season and topped American League in base stealing.

The only White Sox player the Browns are reported to have labelled acceptable thus far is outfielder Dave Philley.

North Shore Takes Uninteresting Game From City Eleven

VANCOUVER (CP)—In one of the dulllest Pacific Coast Soccer League games of the season, North Shore Reds eked out a 2 to 1 victory over Vancouver City Saturday at Callister Park before 2000 fans.

It was the Reds second game in the second-half schedule and put them on even terms with St. Andrews.

The Reds were in complete command throughout but erratic shooting by their forwards cost them at least six goals. Frank Ambler had one of his worst days in months and missed out on no less than three good chances.

City scored first on the new free kick rule. With Reds' Harry Anderson and Teddy Crooks of Vancouver City chasing a loose ball, Harry blocked Teddy and Referee Eric Longhurst blew for a free kick. Crook planted the ball in the goalmouth where Dave Moreton, left uncovered, headed it home.

Midway through the half Bill Smith tied the count. Coming in fast from right wing, Smith picked up Ambler's attempted shot and drove the ball into the bottom left hand corner.

SOFT GOAL
The clincher came five minutes into the second-half and was a gift from Goalie MacKay. Brown sent a low easy liner goalwards and MacKay allowed the ball to slither through his hands.

Although they lost most of their sparkle and snappy play in the second half after an untimely injury to goalie Wally Rowe, the Suburban footballers managed to hold off dangerous attacks by the City club to squeeze through for a 3 to 2 victory in Saturday's benefit soccer match.

Rowe, veteran Esquimalt goalkeeper, had the misfortune to break his right wrist attempting to block George Kulak's shot early in the second half. Loss was a great blow to the dockyarders, who at present have no replacement.

Suburbanites were slow to get organized, and the City squad was quick to take advantage. Before the game was a minute old, inside right Jim Christianson booted home a rebound shot after Rowe had blocked Andy Anderson's drive. Winners quickly nullified the goal, however. At the two-minute mark, winger Denny Shubrook centred a lovely corner shot which saw goalie Vince Clarkson rush too far out. Art Young toed the sphere into the left corner before Clarkson could recover.

Play returned to the Esquimalt-Oak Bay end and Rowe was tested on a pair of hard drives before the Suburban squad treated the crowd to some fancy passing attacks that continually had the city squad running in circles.

YOUNG SPARKS DRIVE
At the 15-minute mark, Young gave the district eleven a 2 to 1 lead when he took Rookie Wright's forward pass and blasted it just under the bar. Don Robinson just missed another for the pressing white-shirts and Young kept up the attack, forcing Clarkson to make a spectacular save of his blast from point-blank range.

Centre-forward George McCashey scored winners' final goal at the 27-minute mark to give the Suburbanites a 3 to 1 edge at the half-way mark.

CITY PRESS
Things were different in the second half, and the City squad evened up the play. Injection of Len Scott into their ranks seemed to add a needed spark. After Anderson and Scott just missed picking off the corner of the goal, Kulak got his boot to the ball just as it was crossing the line on the play in which Rowe was injured. Charlie Sadler took over the net-minding chores and turned in a good performance.

Gordie Cooper missed a pair of golden opportunities which would have tied and won the game for City. His first came when he soloed in on the left wing, only to see his drive rebound hard off the crossbar. Towards the latter stages, Cooper drove wide on a penalty kick.

Final part of the game saw losers put on a desperate attack in an attempt to tie the game, but they were continually out-luckied around the hem.

Calgary Bronks Invade East

Calgary Stampede launched their invasion of the east Thursday in quest of the Dominion football title. Les Lear, coach of the team; quarterback Keith Spalth, and club president Tom Brook stopped over in Toronto for an hour Friday morning on their way to Ottawa to scout their opponent in the Ottawa-Hamilton eastern title game. This Trans-Canada Airlines photo shows, left to right: Brook, Stewardess Terry O'Neill, Spalth and Lear at Toronto's Malton airport.

Stamps Plan Week's Workout In Suburban Retreat Before Final

OAKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Calgary Stampede replaced their 10-gallon stetsons with football helmets today as they started a week of workouts before their Grey Cup clash with Ottawa Roughriders next Saturday.

Coach Les Lear had his unbeaten charges on the field for a workout almost as soon as they arrived at this town on the Lake Ontario shore 15 miles west of Toronto.

And he predicted Stampede would win Saturday if they "play ball."

Stampede arrived last night, tired after their three-day trip from the foothills city, but full of enthusiasm for Calgary's first bid for Dominion football honors since 1911.

They will remain at Appleby College here until Friday.

Last night they went through a brief passing session, a game of tough Rugby and a jog around the gridiron.

One of the 200 spectators was asked politely to leave—he was wearing Ottawa colors and carried a note book.

Lear, a Winnipeg resident since he was six but classed as one of the five American imports, saw Ottawa beat Hamilton Tigers for the eastern title.

He said the Riders were a "good club but they have weaknesses." He wouldn't elaborate on the weaknesses.

COLORFUL ATTIRE
Stampede started early morning Toronto with their colorful outfits when they passed through en route to Oakville, wearing red and white cowboy shirts, 10-gallon hats and riding boots.

They plan to visit Toronto Wednesday and Niagara Falls later in the week. Lear has scheduled workouts both morning and afternoon.

Chief attraction for the spectators was the famous passing combination of Keith Spalth and Woody Strode, both former American professionals. The other two Americans are Chuck Anderson, centre with the New York Yankees of the All-American Conference last year and Johnny Aguire, who played in the 1946 Rose Bowl game with Southern California.

Rangers, Canucks Win To Tighten N.H.L. Race

The race for the National Hockey League leadership tightened over the week-end as Boston pulled into a tie for first place with Detroit and Montreal edged up one point behind the leaders.

Canadiens beat the Detroit Red Wings 3 to 0 in Detroit last night while New York Rangers downed Boston Bruins 4 to 1 at Boston. Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston tied 2 to 2 at Toronto Saturday and then invaded the windy City Sunday to gain another standoff with the Black Hawks 3 to 3.

In one of the fastest games of the week-end, Frankie Boucher's Broadway Blueshirts showed they are not to be shrugged off as a second-division club as they outscored the Bruins, 4 to 1.

Little Tony Leswick sparked the victors with two goals, one on a solo attempt to give the Rangers a tie for the fourth position in the league with Toronto.

Alex Kaleta and Don Raleigh picked up the other New York tallies, while veteran Milt Halpern scored the fourth goal.

"I'm sending a pair; what else can I do," said Brook. "But there's no use Calgary fans flooding me with birth certificates. These are the last two I have."

Favorites Score At Wrestling Show Before Packed House

Bill Varga, Chief Thunderbird and Jack Kiser were the three victors in Saturday's triple main event wrestling show at the Armories, witnessed by one of the largest crowds ever to attend a grappling card in the city.

Bill Hunter of Toronto was the villain of the opening bout and scored the first fall, flattening Varga with a Boston crab. However, the latter scored the equalizer five minutes later with a spinning heelhold. Hollywood-born Varga won the deciding fall after a series of dropkicks and a neatly-executed backtender.

Fans had nothing to holler about in the first round of the Thunderbird-Chico Garcia bout except that the former bullfighter dropped referee Reg Hopkins in the opening minute. Garcia proved to be a tough customer to the officials all evening as he is not used to fighting in rounds, but the Indian chieftan found his number after a rough exhibition.

It was the third round before Garcia scored the first down with a Mexican abdominal stretch. The Redskins applied a deathlock to even it up a few minutes later and won the bout with a double toehold.

Badman-Tony Ross applied a hammerlock to fell Kiser in the early stages of the third event, and the latter was also subjected to several body butts before scoring the tying fall on a high kangaroo kick which made Ross the easy victim for pinning. In the fourth round, Kiser scored the winner with an "alligator clutch."

Heaney's first division soccer club produced some fine attacking combinations and their forwards showed up extremely well yesterday as a squall of rain an amazing 10 to 0 count over Jubilee Park. Youthful Cedric Robb had himself a field day, marking up no less than five goals for the transformers. Other goalgetters were Walker with two, Bruce Madley, Irwin LeBus and Phil Wilkinson.

In the other first division match yesterday, Esquimalt upset the strong Vets of France eleven, 3 to 1. Holroyd deflected in George Adams' shot to give winners an early lead and Gallop made it 2 to 0 on a penalty kick. Bob Rowe scored Vets only goal in the second half when his shot deflected in the nets off Gallop, but Blevins salted it away for dockyarders late in the game.

Pacific Meat of the second division ran roughshod over Sea Cadets yesterday, scoring a 7 to 2 decision. Score was tied 2 to 2 at the breather.

Pacific Meat of the third division were also victorious, defeating Esquimalt Merchants 4 to 0 in a game Saturday. Ronnie Marks paced the attack with three goals.

In the only fourth division match over the week-end, Carey's scored their sixth straight victory, blanking St. Louis College, 7 to 0.

After eight straight wins in the Pacific Coast Hockey League the Tacoma Rockets have fizzled. Seattle's Ironmen set them down Sunday night with a neat 4 to 0 trimming.

The Rockets lost their fuse in the second period when Ronnie Rowe, the fireball forward, was banished for raising a fuss with officials.

In the only other game scheduled the Portland Eagles and the San Diego Skyhawks went to a 3 to 3 overtime tie on Hawk ice.

Birth Certificate Gets Grid Tickets
TORONTO (CP)—Tickets for the Dominion football final here next Saturday are getting so scarce a fan has to produce his birth certificate to buy a pair.

Tom Brook, Calgary Stampede president who brought his western champions east to prepare for the game, received a registered letter from a fan in Calgary. In it was a certified abstract of a birth certificate to prove that the asker, Kenneth William Stanley Carroll, was born in Calgary.

"I'm sending a pair; what else can I do," said Brook. "But there's no use Calgary fans flooding me with birth certificates. These are the last two I have."

Most Successful British Flat Racing Season In Years Ends

LONDON (CP)—In the Manchester mists and amid the autumn rains, the British flat racing season, one of the most successful in years ended Saturday.

It was a season in which British horsemen began holding their own against the French challenge for the first time since the war.

Domestically it was business as usual. The Aga Khan again is both the leading owner and leading breeder. The champion stable is Beckhampton in Wiltshire and Gordon Richards is still champion jockey.

The Aga Khan's horses in his famed chocolate and green silks won more than £46,000 ($184,000), nearly £4,000 more than his nearest rival, the Maharaja of Baroda.

Noel Murless, in his first year as head trainer at Beckhampton, saddled 63 winners whose purses totaled more than £66,500. Beckhampton's earnings were the best since 1931. There, the prominent Dewar, Loder and MacDonald-Buchanan strings are trained.

The peerless Richards, who is the leading jockey for Beckhampton and the Aga Khan rider, ran off with the jockey championship by booting home 224 winners. It was the 21st time the little iron man had led the riders.

SUCCESSOR TO RICHARDS

A relative newcomer to the British riding ranks who might some day succeed Gordon as champion rider is Australian-born Edgar Britt who placed second with 145 winners including several triumphs in major races. It is his best year yet.

British owners managed to win "3 1/2" of the five classics compared to 1947 when the French swept three of the set. Baroda's My Babu, a 2 to 1 favorite, scored in the Two Thousand Guineas and Richards kicked Beckhampton's Queen Pot home at 6 to 1 in the One Thousand Guineas. The Aga Khan took the Oaks with Masaka at 7 to 1 and owned a half share in the French-bred My Love which came home in the Derby at 100 to 9.

Canadian Thomas Cup Badminton Team Named

TORONTO (CP)—Dick Birch, 1948 Canadian badminton singles champion last night was named playing captain of the Canadian team to play India in the first round of Thomas Cup play.

Other members of the team to play here Dec. 3 and 4, named by the Canadian Badminton Association after a four-day round-robin tournament, are:

Johnny Samis, Vancouver; Ted Pollock of Toronto and Roy Smith of Woodstock, 1948, Canadian doubles champions; Gord Simpson of Montreal, and Daryl Simpson of Vancouver.

Jack Muir of Toronto, who won his first three playoff matches, lost a post on the team when he tore a leg muscle in a match Saturday with Kenny Forsythe of Winnipeg.

Birch was given a bye in the tournament with the consent of the other players. Samis was unable to make the playoffs and also was given a bye.

Hamilton Grounds Way To Dominion Football Title

HAMILTON (CP)—The Hamilton Wildcats displayed a bruising brand of orthodox Canadian football Saturday in bringing the city its first Dominion junior gridiron title.

The heavier Cats, who entered the game as favorites, swept to a 23 to 10 victory over Saskatoon Hilltops in the first official east-west junior game since 1932. And they stuck mainly to the ground in winning the sudden-death playoff.

Led by Ed Yablonski, Brian Timmis Jr. and Garnet Steeves, the Hamilton team banged away at centre for most of its gains while tossing in the odd end run when the chance arose. One touchdown, the first, was scored off a pass.

SMALL CROWD

Less than 2,000 fans saw the western Canada champions make a gallant but futile attempt to stop the wheeling Hamilton backfielders who were given excellent support by a charging line.

A quick touchdown, by Steeves, after five minutes of play, gave the new champions a lead they held until the second quarter when Mike Marushak crashed through with a major for the visitors. Ernie Allard and Yablonski came back with touchdowns for the Cats in the same session with Timmis converting Yablonski's try.

The Cats continued to roll in the third quarter with Steeves collecting his second touchdown before a brilliant drive by the Hilltops produced a major by Les Parker. Hamilton counted two more points in the last quarter on kicks by Joe McFarlane and Timmis.

BUTTON GOLF

Don Gowan and Frank Scroggs of the Uplands Golf Club captured the city button golf match against Dr. George Bigelow and Alan Taylor of the Victoria Club at the 20th hole yesterday.

Riders Outplay Tigers In Eastern Grid Final

OTTAWA (CP)—Two crowns down and a third to go, Ottawa Roughriders today were preparing to meet Calgary Stampeders for the Grey Cup on foreign ground.

The Riders, who won the Big Four and eastern Canadian championships on home soil, will lock with the western Canadian champions in Toronto's Varsity Stadium next Saturday.

They earned their way into the battle for the Canadian football crown by walloping Hamilton Tigers 19 to 0 Saturday.

The Riders, Ontario rugby football champions, met the Riders on a muddy, foggy field. They were badly outplayed from the start.

TONY GOLAB STARS

Led by Tony (Golden Boy) Golab, the powerful Riders started their victory march towards the Hamilton end early in the game. They broke the Tigers line for three touchdowns, all converted, and a singleton.

Golden Boy Golab—a wounded veteran of the second world war—provided two of the touchdowns, one in the first and another in the third quarter. Bert Haigh took Bob Paffrath's second quarter pass from 10 yards out to provide the third. Eric Chipper converted all three.

Playing a dazzling game for the Riders and doing most of the booting, Howie (Touchdown) Turner scored with a single in the second quarter. But the Riders didn't need that point.

FILCHOCK INJURED

The Tigers had an early setback when playing-coach Frank Filchock injured his arm. It struck Golab's helmet in the first quarter. But despite the injury Filchock continued to play but was hit hard by the Rider line.

The Rider line also did some heavy crushing as the Tigers continued to put up a spirited but ineffective offense.

In the final quarter, the Hamiltonians finally made some headway, driving into Rider territory. The game ended, however, with the Riders still trying to gain ground at the Ottawa 40-yard line.

Rose Bowl Teams To Be Announced Later In Week

NEW YORK (CP)—California, Oregon, Northwestern and Minnesota all won football games Saturday but they failed to provide an answer to the $250,000 question—which two will play in the Rose Bowl come New Year's Day?

Faculty representatives from the schools of the Pacific Coast Conference and the Big Nine will make their choice known early this week. The lucky schools to pay in this premier post-season college football event will pocket a $250,000 melon.

Although they wound up their schedules Saturday, unbeaten and untied in their circuit, California and Oregon failed to clear up the Pacific Coast Conference tangle. California squeezed by an inspired Stanford eleven 7 to 6 before 80,000 fans at Berkeley, Calif., while Oregon had an easier time disposing of Oregon State 10 to 0.

The Big Nine race ended with Michigan retaining the championship for the second year by taking to the air to down Ohio State 13 to 3. Northwestern grounded out its 20 to 7 triumph over Illinois for second place while Minnesota pounded Wisconsin 16 to 0.

But Michigan, the defending Rose Bowl champion, is barred by the rules of the midwest-coast conference tie-up from making a second trip in succession to Pasadena. Consequently, the Big Nine fathers will vote either Northwestern or Minnesota for the trip. Northwestern, however, is a clear-cut runner-up to Michigan and the likely nominee.

PENN STATE UPSET

Once mighty Pittsburgh revolted against its recent occupation of the football doormat and defeated Penn State 7 to 0. Nick Bolkovac intercepted a Penn State pass late in the fourth quarter and ran 23 yards for the touchdown.

Pitt's neighbor, Carnegie Tech, defeated Grove City, a rival Pennsylvania College, 7 to 0, for its first victory since 1942. George Washington spilled Georgetown 13 to 7 for their first victory in series that started in 1890. Louisiana State, battered six times in eight starts, licked its bruises with a 26 to 6 upset of Alabama.

Regina Caps Grab Puck Lead As Flyers Beaten

Regina Caps have bounced back into the leadership of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League, a 2 to 1 victory over Saskatoon Quakers Saturday giving them sole possession of top spot formerly shared with Edmonton Flyers who went down to a 4 to 3 defeat at the hands of Lethbridge Maple Leafs.

The Caps, playing on Saskatoon ice before 3,600 fans, have two games in hand over the Flyers but they had their work cut out for them in subduing a stubborn Quakers squad who have only registered one victory in 14 starts.

Mel (Sudden Death) Hill and Gordie Stasosen were the goal-getters for the winners while Les Strongman netted the lone Quaker tally.

The home team came up with one of their best performances of the season, holding the visitors scoreless in the first and third periods but a momentary lapse late in the middle frame gave the powerful Caps their margin of victory.

GOALIES BATTLE

The game was a goalie's battle all the way with Johnny Soflak for Saskatoon and Bev Bentley for Regina turning in standout performances.

The game was delayed briefly in the third period when the fans showered the ice with programs, protesting against lack of a penalty to Gus Kyle of the visitors after he had allegedly struck Soflak with his stick.

At Lethbridge, the Leafs, paced by their high-scoring punch line of Steve Latoski, Grant Hall and Roy Heximer, took over third place in the standings before a sellout crowd of more than 3,300 fans.

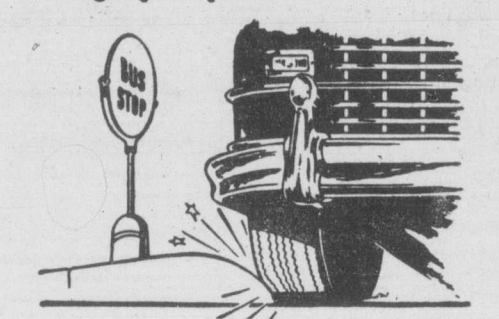

HEXIMER GETS THREE

Heximer scored three times while the other Leaf goal went to Latoski. A single forward line also dominated play for Edmonton as the Morey Rimstad-Colin Kilburn-Bill Maher trio racked up three goals between them. Maher got two and Rimstad got the third.

Calgary Buffaloes today have a stronger grip on top spot in the Western Canada Junior Hockey League standings, result of an 11 to 3 victory over Medicine Hat Tigers Saturday night. In the other league game, Regina Pats shaded Bellevue Lions 3 to 2.

A well-built little structure at rear of house provides either an extra room or additional storage space. There is also a matching garage. The garden with its lawns, flowers, and ornamental shrubs is very pretty and has complete seclusion. Owner will sell either furnished or unfurnished and arrange to give early possession. Some terms. Investors' Book Interesting Work

A book for laymen, businessmen and women and for students interested in investments is "Canadian Investors' Handbook," just published by Printers Guild Limited, written by A. W. Turner, Ph.D., F.S.S., whose booklet "We All Own Canada" was well received in 1944 and widely read.

The big thing about this book is its simple English and clear explanations. Every chapter can be understood easily by the general public.

"Canadian Investors' Handbook" tells about different kinds of bonds and stocks and explains how they are issued and sold to the public. It discusses markets, government and municipal debt and tells how to understand company reports. There is one complete chapter on how to formulate one's own investment policy.

The chapters are self-contained. Each deals with a specific subject and may be read in any order. An appendix contains charts and statistics on stock prices, interest rates, government revenues, and taxes. A complete index makes this 200-page book valuable for reference purposes.

Other books have been published on the investment business, but this appears to be one of the few Canadian books written in down to earth language that everyone can understand.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Oats and barley prices moved irregularly in a dull session Monday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange which saw fair buying for U.S. accounts in both coarse grains.

Shippers also made purchases in both grains. Offerings in December contracts showed some increase but following temporary recessions these were well absorbed.

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn took over the grain market's leadership from wheat Monday, advancing more than a cent at times on fairly active buying.

Arrivals of cash corn in the spot market were down considerably from recent Mondays. Prices for cash grain advanced.

Industrials, Metals Show Easier Tone

TORONTO (CP)—Industrials and base metals showed a slightly easier tone as trading slowed on the Toronto Stock Exchange Monday. Golds held steady in quiet action and western oils began to sag after stronger early dealings.

Utilities edged ahead on fractional advances in the dull industrial groupings. Imperial oil and McCall dipped in refining oils and Canadian Celanese and Dominion Woolens were down in the textile list. Papers, steels and foods were mixed. Canadian Breweries was active in the liquor list for a small gain.

Toronto Index:
20 Industrials 184.63, off .28
20 goods 80.32, off .28
10 base metal 107.72, off .57
15 western oil 49.62, off .61
Total sales, 922,000.

Market Down Fractions To 2 Points

NEW YORK (AP)—Light selling pressure pushed the Stock Market down by fractions to around two points. There were periods of mild recovery throughout the day, but none of these was extended beyond the fractional phase.

Rails, steels and motors took the heaviest part of the pressure. Almost all of the groups headed down after a mixed opening in which trading was moderately active.

Canadian issues were lower. McCall dropped 3/4. Dome Mines fell 1/4. Canadian Pacific and Hiram Walker each eased 1/4.

How Jones Averages:
30 Industrials 176.33, off .69
20 rails 54.48, off .17
15 utilities 33.25, up .13
65 stocks 64.68, off .39
Total sales, 890,000.
